

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

To provide investors with capital growth and attractive risk-adjusted returns over the long-term through exposure to a portfolio of global listed equities.

PORTFOLIO UPDATE

Global markets were volatile in August and declined sharply towards the end of the month as US Federal Reserve (Fed) chairman Powell gave a hawkish speech at the annual Jackson Hole conference of central bankers. Chairman Powell suggested that inflation is still running too high, despite the recent rate rises and the bank's commitment to controlling it. The chairman also suggested that the monetary policy will have to remain restrictive for longer than previously anticipated. Equity markets, that had been buoyed recently with prospects of the US Fed reducing the speed and quantum of rate hikes, responded negatively. European central banking officials also indicated prospects of higher rates in Europe to control inflation energy prices continue to soar.

The Orca Global Fund (Fund) returned -4.3%¹ in August underperforming the MSCI World Index by 1.8% due to overweight positions in defensive sectors that underperformed and an underweight to Energy. Techtronic (+10.0%) and Meta Platforms (+4.2%) were the best performing stocks. Techtronic reported strong earnings that beat expectations whereas Meta rebounded after the correction in July on reports that it planned to add more paid features for Facebook and Instagram. Detractors from performance included Orsted (-13.6%), Alphabet (-5.4%) and Microsoft (-5.1%). Orsted reported good quarterly earnings that beat expectations, but the stock declined due to concerns surrounding the underperformance of the offshore wind power business. Alphabet and Microsoft declined due to a broader correction in technology stocks. News reports suggested that the US Department of Justice could sue Google (Alphabet is the parent company) for its ad dominance.
